MEMORANDUM

TO: Scott Crass
Presiding Officer
Fairbanks North Star Borough Assembly

THROUGH: Grier Hopkins, Borough Mayor

FROM: Kellen Spillman
Director
Community Planning Department

DATE: September 17, 2026

SUBJECT: Ordinance No. 2026-23
AN ORDINANCE REZONING LOTS 1, 2, 11, 12,
BLOCK 1; LOTS 14A, 14B, 15N, 16, 17, BLOCK 3;
LOTS 17A, 18A, 19A, 19B, BLOCK 4, MCKINLEY
ACRES SUBDIVISION FROM TWO-FAMILY
RESIDENTIAL (TF) TO MULTIPLE FAMILY
RESIDENTIAL (MF) (LOCATED ON FAIRBANKS
STREET BETWEEN IRIS LANE AND DUNLAP AVENUE)

This subject ordinance is an applicant-initiated request to rezone a strip of thirteen lots that are adjacent or near-adjacent to the east side Fairbanks Street from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple-Family Residential (MF). The rezone area is south of Geist Road, on the west edge of the McKinley Acres subdivision.

The Department of Community Planning recommended approval because it meets the intent of the Regional Comprehensive Plan's designations of "Urban" and has adequate services to support density, while the Fairbanks Street corridor-focused zoning reduces impact to the adjacent TF neighborhood.

The Planning Commission concurred with the staff recommendation and voted ten in favor, zero opposed, to recommend adoption, adopting the staff report and four findings of fact in support of the recommendation.

This item is requested to be placed on the agenda for the next Fairbanks North Star Borough Assembly meeting.

FAIRBANKS NORTH STAR BOROUGH

ORDINANCE NO. 2026 – 23

AN ORDINANCE REZONING LOTS 1, 2, 11, 12, BLOCK 1; LOTS 14A, 14B, 15N, 16, 17, BLOCK 3; LOTS 17A, 18A, 19A, 19B, BLOCK 4, MCKINLEY ACRES SUBDIVISION FROM TWO-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL (TF) TO MULTIPLE FAMILY RESIDENTIAL (MF) OR OTHER APPROPRIATE ZONE (LOCATED ON FAIRBANKS STREET BETWEEN IRIS LANE AND DUNLAP AVENUE)

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Assembly of the Fairbanks North Star Borough:

Section 1. Classification. This ordinance is not of a general and permanent nature and shall not be codified.

Section 2. The following described property is rezoned from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple-Family Residential (MF):
Lots 1, 2, 11, 12, Block 1, McKinley Acres Subdivision; Lots 16, 17, Block 3, McKinley Acres Subdivision [per Plat No. 134.660 rec. 9/25/1952]; Lots 14A, 14B, 15N, Block 3, McKinley Acres Subdivision [per Subdivision Waiver No. 72-08888 rec. 7/24/1972 F.R.D.]; Lots 19A and 19B, Block 4, McKinley Acres Subdivision [per Subdivision Waiver No. 69.2720 rec. 4/16/1969 F.R.D.]; Lots 17A and 18A, Block 4, McKinley Acres Subdivision [per Plat No. 98-63 rec. 6/29/1998 F.R.D.], as shown on the attached Exhibit A.

Section 3. The official zoning map is amended in accordance with this ordinance.

Section 4. Effective Date. This ordinance is effective at 5:00 p.m. on the first Borough business day following its adoption.

G. PUBLIC HEARINGS AND LEGISLATIVE HEARINGS

G.1. RZ2026-009

A request by Deborah Snow, on behalf of multiple property owners, to rezone Lots 1, 2, 11, 12, Block 1; Lots 14A, 14B, 15N, 16, 17, Block 3, Lots 17A, 18A, 19A, 19B, Block 4, McKinley Acres Subdivision from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple Family Residential (MF), located on Fairbanks Street between Iris Lane and Dunlap Avenue. (Staff Contact: Anduin K. McElroy)

Anduin McElroy, Planner III, presented the staff report. Based on the staff analysis, Community Planning recommended approval.

Deborah Snow, Byron Bruckner, and Elizabeth Schok, Applicants, had no questions of staff.

Commissioners questioned staff on the following:

- Fairbanks Street; it was answered, Fairbanks Street is classified as a major collector roadway.
- Major collector definition; it was answered, a major collector is defined in Borough Code as "Major collectors collect traffic from local streets and minor collectors and channel it into the arterial system."
- Parking along main road; it was answered, yes.
- Restrictions on backing into roadway; it was answered, backing into a major collector roadway would not be allowed for new developments in the area.
- Development plans; it was answered, deferred to property owners.
- Unique roadway; it was answered, 30 mph speed limit on Fairbanks Street, approximately 2,300 cars counted but the data doesn't accurately apply to deeper down the street due to the gas station and post office near the intersection. Functions more as a minor collector as the road progresses.

- Age and quality of area structures; it was answered, most houses are well maintained and good quality, new developments might add to existing buildings.
- Enforcement action against nonconforming use property; it was answered, there were many code enforcement complaints and a conditional use application that was denied; the building is now vacant and there is some difficulty selling it as it appears as a nonconforming structure.
- Changing zoning when a property owner is opposed; it was answered, only to prevent something like spot zoning and more than 51% of the property owners in the area are in favor of the rezone.
- Six of the thirteen lots in question already being duplexes; it was answered, correct.
- Bed and breakfast being within the rezone area; it was answered, it is considered a zoning lot because it is a large building on adjoining lots that convey together.
- Current function; it was answered, even if granted a conditional use permit with multifamily zoning, this structure would require significant modifications to become compliant.
- Nonconforming structure build date; it was answered, 1960s before there were any zoning standards. Expanded in the 1990s.
- Multifamily building; it was answered, a multifamily building would have separate dwellings in it. This would need remodeling to turn it into a six plex.
- Requirement for parking on the property; it was answered, yes, one per unit.
- Development of a multifamily structure; it was answered, no, that is across the street.
- Property owners that did not sign; it was answered, in such a large rezone it's common to not have every property owner sign the petition included in the rezone request packet.
- Process of determining rezone parameters; it was answered, corridor planning is derived from consultation between applicant and community planning staff.
- DOT jurisdiction for road service; it was answered, College Road service area.
- Building compliance; it was answered, became noncompliant with expansion and then was expanded inappropriately into setbacks.
- Rezone caused by a vacant house that can't be sold; it was answered, correct.
- House needing multifamily zoning to be sold to current interested buyer; it was answered, yes.
- Original intention of the structure; it was answered, a 1962 cabin.
- Current square footage; it was answered, deferred to the applicant.
- Uniform size to the bedrooms; it was answered, deferred to the applicant.
- Current owner responsible for the expansion; it was answered, the owner is the Oberst Family Trust and the person responsible for non-compliant expansion has since passed away.

- Option for the Commission to remove properties from the rezone area; it was answered, the Commission may approve as submitted, approve with special limitations, recommend an amendment to the request to a more appropriate zoning district, or recommend denial of the rezone entirely, but there is no Commission option to alter the rezone parameters.
- Bed and breakfast or rooming house usage to require a conditional use permit; it was answered, a bed and breakfast residence (up to nine rooms) is permitted, a rooming house would require a conditional use permit, a group home would need a conditional use permit.
- Difference between group home and rooming house; it was answered, a rooming house would have shared living quarters and a long term rental of a bedroom and a group home would serve for persons seeking assistance, rehabilitation, or self help except for persons defined as family.
- Bathroom and bathing facilities; it was answered, no restrictions on how many bathrooms or kitchens are required.
- Last time this property was used as a bed and breakfast; it was answered, deferred to the applicant.
- What can be done with the nonconforming property in current configuration; it was answered, not much, perhaps converted to a church, could not be residentially or commercially used.
- Heated storage; it was answered, no, the Two-Family Residential zone does not allow for commercial use.
- Rezone not benefitting one party in principal; it was answered, correct.
- Large quantity of lots in order to make it a larger area and not a spot zone; it was answered, correct, couldn't be a spot zone and represents a connection to a similar zone and conforms to the Comprehensive Plan.

Deborah Snow, Byron Bruckner, and Elizabeth Schok, Applicants, provided information on the following:

- History of the large structure and factors behind the noncompliance.
- Reasons for requesting multifamily zoning only.
- Housing crisis in Fairbanks.
- Future of the area being boosted by a rezone.
- Infrastructure present supporting multifamily zoning.
- Requirements for the rezone application being met.
- Development plans.
- Community planning staff concluding this would not be a spot zone and is consistent with the area.
- Concerns if the rezone is denied it will encourage blight creep.

Commissioners questioned the applicants on the following:

- Communications with the other property owners; it was answered, a long time resident who supported the rezone volunteered to go speak with the neighbors.
- Pedestrian usage; it was answered, property appeal is that it is close to campus for UAF students that need to walk or bike to school. Half of the residents in their Anchorage housing model do not use vehicles.
- Steps to make property conforming; it was answered, would need to get adoption of the rezone from the Assembly and then acquire a conditional use permit for a rooming house.
- Options if rezone is denied; it was answered, the property owner does not have the resources to remodel the property into something that is compliant if the rezone is denied, and the property would sit vacant and be non-sellable.
- Applicant's property currently being vacant; it was answered, yes, due to non-compliance and past application for a conditional use permit being denied.
- Noncompliance historically expanded since 1980; it was answered, correct, the previous owner continued to expand despite multiple code violations.
- Previous owner's awareness of zoning violations; it was answered, would need to review the zoning verification letter, but the applicant believed she was aware.
- Previous owner had since passed away; it was answered, correct, one year prior.
- Operating as a bed and breakfast until which date; it was answered, up until a year ago.

Chair McKinley called for public testimony.

Stephanie Rozell, resident of the Borough, spoke in favor of RZ2026-009, commented on the community's need for housing, public health and welfare, and a petition she had initiated.

Commissioners questioned Ms. Rozell on the following:

- Parking restrictions on Fairbanks Street; it was answered, no restrictions, plowing is an issue deeper within the area.
- Abandoned vehicle length of stay; it was answered, abandoned vehicles are reported to the road commission and then length of stay depends upon the year and current road commissioners.
- Area traffic; It was answered, major collector roadway, heavy traffic and well maintained sidewalks.
- Parking accommodation for additional development; it was answered, street parking allowed but there is space for onsite parking in the developments with which she is familiar.
- Plans to expand personal property prior to rezone request; it was answered, yes, planned once finances become available.

Brian Rozell, resident of the Borough, spoke in favor of RZ2026-009 for the health and benefit of the community. Mr. Rozell expressed concern for vacant buildings within the area becoming hazards and nuisance properties if the rezone did not occur.

Commissioners questioned Mr. Rozell on the effect a proposed boarding house might have on traffic; it was answered, this would be a minor concern for residents compared to what the consequences of not rezoning this area might be.

Blake Moore, resident of the Borough, spoke in opposition to RZ2026-009. Mr. Moore recounted issues that had been caused by a noncompliant bed and breakfast that had been in past operation in the area, which had detrimentally increased population density in a residential area. Mr. Moore proposed Multi-Family zoning instead.

Commissioners questioned Mr. Moore on what he would like to see happen with the nonconforming lot and if upgrades would resolve issues caused by the previous owner; it was answered, he would like to see it remodeled into a single or double family owner occupied residence consistent with the rest of the neighborhood and that the upgrades aren't bad but there's no guarantee on how the area would be developed after the rezone.

Sherida Zawadzki, resident of the Borough, spoke in support of RZ2026-009 and expressed concern for the currently vacant nuisance buildings within the area and felt that the rezone would solve this issue.

Commissioners had no questions of Ms. Zawadzki.

Robin Renfroe, resident of the Borough, spoke in support of RZ2026-009, expressing concern for buildings remaining vacant and deteriorating.

Commissioners had no questions of Ms. Renfroe.

Dan Jarrell, resident of the Borough, spoke in favor of RZ2026-009, commenting on remodeling a home in the neighborhood and the existing health concern of dilapidated nuisance homes in the area. Mr. Jarrell felt a rezone would solve current issues by attracting developers.

Commissioners had no questions of Mr. Jarrell.

Chair McKinley called for additional public testimony. There being none, public testimony was closed.

Deborah Snow, Applicant, responded to public testimony by commenting on the following:

- Rezoning the corridor along Fairbanks Street would allow property owners the option to increase housing.
- Fairbanks housing crisis being mitigated by the rezone.
- Rezoning would help Fairbanks avoid crime and vagrancy, supporting public health and safety.
- Sufficient infrastructure being available.
- Rezone supporting property rights.

Commissioner Collier declared a potential conflict of interest due to a pending contractor's bid to remodel a property within the area, which may give him a direct financial interest in the rezone. Chair McKinley ruled a conflict did exist and Mr. Collier was excused from the dais.

RODRIGUEZ,
Seconded by SMART

moved to recommend to the Borough Assembly approval of RZ2026-009, a request to rezone Lots 1, 2, 11, 12, Block 1; Lots 14A, 14B, 15N, 16, 17, Block 3, Lots 17A, 18A, 19A, 19B, Block 4, McKinley Acres Subdivision from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple-Family Residential (MF), adopting the staff report and four Findings of Fact in support of the approval.

Discussion ensued on the following:

- Housing crisis in Fairbanks.
- Possibility of negative impact to neighborhood if not rezoned.
- Support of majority of public testimony for the rezone and for property rights.
- Proactive approaches for redevelopment and stopping blight creep.
- Rezone supported by FNSB Regional Comprehensive Plan goals.
- Transportation and wide lanes.
- Student housing opportunity.
- Nuisance properties nearby.

VOTE ON MOTION TO RECOMMEND TO THE BOROUGH ASSEMBLY APPROVAL OF RZ2026-009, A REQUEST TO REZONE LOTS 1, 2, 11, 12, BLOCK 1; LOTS 14A, 14B, 15N, 16, 17, BLOCK 3, LOTS 17A, 18A, 19A, 19B, BLOCK 4, MCKINLEY ACRES SUBDIVISION FROM TWO-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL (TF) TO MULTIPLE-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL (MF), ADOPTING THE STAFF REPORT AND FOUR FINDINGS OF FACT IN SUPPORT OF THE APPROVAL.

MOTION CARRIED 10 Yeses, 0 Noes

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. The rezone to Multiple-Family Residential is consistent with the FNSB Regional Comprehensive Plan (RCP) land use designation of "Urban," which is the "area that is served with community water and sewer, and contains the most intensive residential, commercial, and industrial development." This area should have the highest amount of public improvements available to it, and be able to support the highest densities within the Borough. Public improvements include community water and sewer, road service, emergency services, gas, telephone, and power.
2. The rezone conforms to the following FNSB Regional Comprehensive Plan's goals and strategies:

Land Use Goal 3: To have a variety of land uses that fit the diverse needs of the community.

Strategy 7: Provide a variety of residential land use opportunities.

Action B: Encourage a mix of lot sizes.

- Maintain and encourage residential patterns that minimize public and private costs, both initial and long-term.

Land Use Goal 4: To enhance development opportunities while minimizing land use conflicts.

Strategy 10: Attract and support development that is compatible with and enhances existing land use:

Action A: Support innovative land development and compatible land use that addresses special area needs, site constraints, energy, or design objectives.

- Encourage energy-efficient land use through higher densities and clustered housing.

3. The rezone conforms to the public health, safety and welfare because:

- a. There are adequate utilities to handle density.
- b. The area in this rezone is served directly by a major collector, Fairbanks Street, and would not divert traffic into a lower density neighborhood.
- c. Additional density is supported by existing transportation infrastructure—sidewalks and adequate road service—and transit services, as the area is near a MACS Transit bus stop.
- d. New development must comply with Multiple-Family Residential side- and rear-setback standards, which are greater than those in Two-Family Residential.
- e. The MF zone has standards for noncompliant uses to come into compliance.
- f. Multiple-family residential development is subject to a plan review by the State Fire Marshal.

4. The proposed rezone is likely not a spot zone because:

- a. The MF zoning district is consistent with the “Urban” designation in the Regional Comprehensive Plan (RCP). The rezone is supported by the RCP Land Use Goal 3, Strategy 7, Action B; and Land Use Goal 4, Strategy 10, Action A.
- b. The rezone is not a detriment to surrounding owners because any additional traffic will not be routed through the neighborhood, but is instead directed onto Fairbanks Street which has significant capacity to handle additional traffic.

- c. The rezone continues MF zoning from across the street, creating a MF corridor. It does not introduce a totally different use; the dense residential zone would be adjacent to an existing slightly less-dense residential zone

Commissioner Collier returned to the dais.

STAFF REPORT

TO: Fairbanks North Star Borough Planning Commission

THROUGH: Kellen D. Spillman, Director Department of Community Planning RDS

FROM: Anduin K. McElroy, Planner III AKM

DATE: August 11, 2026

SUBJECT: RZ2026-009: A request by Deborah Snow, on behalf of multiple property owners, to rezone Lots 1, 2, 11, 12, Block 1; Lots 14A, 14B, 15N, 16, 17, Block 3, Lots 17A, 18A, 19A, 19B, Block 4, McKinley Acres Subdivision from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple-Family Residential (MF), located on Fairbanks Street between Iris Lane and Dunlap Avenue.

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This is an applicant-initiated request to rezone a strip of thirteen lots (2.14-acres) that are adjacent or near-adjacent to Fairbanks Street from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple-Family Residential (MF). The rezone area is south of Geist Road, on the west edge of the McKinley Acres subdivision.

A rezone petition was signed by property owners of nine lots, which represents 72 percent of the property area. The purpose of the rezone is to allow the property owners to increase density, if desired, and would encourage investment in and redevelopment of aging structures, according to the application's narrative.

Staff supports this rezone because it meets the intent of the Regional Comprehensive Plan's designations of "Urban" and has adequate services to support density, while the Fairbanks Street corridor-focused zoning reduces impact to the adjacent TF neighborhood. The rezone promotes public health, safety and welfare and allows for the possibility of additional housing densities when they can be supported by infrastructure. Community Planning recommends that the Planning Commission recommend approval of this rezone request to the FNSB Assembly.

III. STAFF ANALYSIS

Rezone Request Description

This request is to rezone a strip of thirteen lots (2.14-acres) that are adjacent or near-adjacent to Fairbanks Street from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple-Family Residential (MF).¹¹ This area is south of Geist Road in the McKinley Acres subdivision.

The applicant is the trustee for Lot 17A/18A, and the rezone petition had complete¹² signatures from property owners of nine lots, which represents 72 percent of the property area. A rezone petition must be signed by owners of at least 51 percent of the property area to be rezoned.¹³ There were no objections to the rezone petition from the three property owners who did not sign the petition.

In the narrative, the applicant wrote that the TF zoning designation “no longer reflects the existing character, infrastructure, and development potential of the corridor. Rezoning these properties to MF would create a more logical and consistent land-use pattern while helping address Fairbanks’ growing housing needs.”¹⁴

The purpose of the rezone is to allow the property owners to increase density, if desired, and would encourage investment in and redevelopment of aging structures. They said “allowing multi-family development along this corridor would increase housing capacity, diversify housing choices, and help address housing shortages without expanding infrastructure into undeveloped areas.”

The narrative lists several reasons that the MF zoning was appropriate, including that the lots access on Fairbanks Street, which is a major collector, there is existing urban infrastructure, and adequate off-street parking can be provided. Additionally, they pointed to the presence of multi-family zoning across the street, indicating neighborhood compatibility.

The application did not indicate that there is a specific development plan for the rezone area. A potential buyer of Lot 17A/18A has expressed interest in converting the use into a roominghouse,¹⁵ which is not an allowed use in the TF zone, but is a conditional use in the MF one. Other signatories have not indicated immediate plans to convert the use of their property.

¹¹ Attachment 8: Application

¹² Signatures are considered complete if all property owners have signed. One signature did not include Trust paperwork to verify that it was allowed to be the sole signatory, so this was not included in the calculations.

¹³ FNSBC 18.104.020(A)(2)

¹⁴ Attachment 8: Application narrative

¹⁵ FNSBC 18.04.010: “Roominghouse” means a dwelling unit or portion thereof, other than a hotel, motel or guest room, in which lodging is provided by the owner or operator to five or more boarders for consideration.

The existing TF zoning district “is intended for medium density residential development and other uses which maintain the medium density residential nature of the district in areas where community sewer and water systems are available.”¹⁶ It allows for single family detached dwellings, two-family attached dwellings (only on lots at least 7,000 square feet), and other limited uses such as church buildings.

The proposed MF zoning district “is intended for high density residential development provided through a variety of housing types and other types of quasi-residential and public use development maintaining the high density residential nature of the district. This district is intended for areas where community sewer and water systems are available.”¹⁷ In addition to what is allowed in the Single Family Residential (SF) zone and the TF zone, the MF zone permits bed and breakfast residences and multiple-family dwellings. It also has more conditional uses, such as group homes and roominghouses. Unlike the SF and TF zone, more than one principal building is permitted on one lot (required lot area applies to each building).

The rezone would increase the allowable density of the lots. It should be noted that the existing residential structures generally appear to be well-maintained, and it is unlikely that they would be torn down and redeveloped in the immediate future. That said, following is the possible maximum density in each of the zones.

The rezone area has 13 lots, but only 11 zoning lots (when parcels are used as one lot). According to FNSB Assessing data, there are three single family dwelling units, six duplexes, a former bed and breakfast (please note that the bed and breakfast was not compliant and subject to several code enforcement cases) and a vacant parcel owned by a utility company. The existing density is 16 dwelling units.

In the TF zone the maximum density allowed is two dwelling units per lot if the lot is at least 7,000 square feet. There are thirteen lots in the rezone area. All but one are at least 7,000 square feet, so the possible density is currently 13-25 dwelling units, if all lots are developed at maximum density.

In the MF zone the maximum density allowed depends on building type:

Dwelling units/building	Required lot area
Single family house	5,000 sf per unit
Duplex	3,500 sf per unit (7,000 total)
More than two dwelling units in a single building	2,000 sf per unit

¹⁶ FNSBC 18.48.010

¹⁷ FNSBC 18.52.010

In the MF zone more than one building may be on a lot, and the required lot area for each building applies. Staff determined the maximum allowable density for each lot, based on lot area. The possible density of the rezone area if zoned MF is 13-51 dwelling units, depending on how they were developed. This number is not the probable density, given that there is existing development and only one vacant lot, but it is necessary to understand what the rezone may allow.

In addition to the required lot area, the MF zone naturally limits density through the parking requirement and setbacks. If there are three or more dwelling units then off-street parking is required (one per dwelling unit). The MF zone also requires greater setbacks than the TF zone (10 feet for the side and rear yards instead of 5 feet).

Area Zoning and Land Use¹⁸

The rezone area is on the west edge of McKinley Acres Subdivision, which was created in 1952. The homes in the rezone area were built 1962-1976. When the Borough first created zoning, the subdivision was zoned Unrestricted Use. In 1970 it was zoned General Residential, which allowed single family and two-family dwellings. The 1988 rewrite of zoning code changed General Residential to Two-Family Residential, and the uses remained largely unchanged. The character of the subdivision is a typical Two-Family Residential neighborhood.¹⁹ There appears to be an even mix of single-family and two-family homes.

Across Fairbanks Street to the west are two large lots zoned MF. One lot has the University Park Condos, and the other appears to have multi-family dwellings under construction. South of the MF

¹⁸ Attachment 9: Area zoning

¹⁹ Attachment 10: Site visit

zone is Rural Residential zoning containing single and two-family houses. North of the MF zone, and not directly across from the rezone area, is zoned General Commercial and contains the fire-damaged College Inn.

Directly north of the rezone area is zoned General Commercial/Contract Zone, and contains a U.S. Post office. This contract zone, which was adopted in 1985, was an attempt to limit the impact of General Commercial adjacent to the existing residential neighborhood. It has restrictions for development and access on the south side of the rezone area, adjacent to Iris Lane.

Comprehensive Plan

FNSB Long Range Planner Kayde Whiteside provided the following:²⁰

The proposed rezone area is designated as “Urban” in the Regional Comprehensive Plan Future Land Use Map. “Urban” is the “Area that is served or can be served with community water and sewer, and contains the most intensive residential, commercial, and industrial development.” Given the surrounding area is developed residentially and commercially to the north, industrial zoning is not appropriate in this area. The requested zoning designation of Multiple-Family Residential (MF) is an appropriate zoning designation for the urban designation and given the adjacent location of Two-Family Residential (TF) and MF zoning across Fairbanks Street, which is a major collector roadway maintained by the College RSA. Supporting additional residential development in the area would be in keeping with the Urban designation which is intended for most intensive development in the community.

The proposed rezone action supports the following goals, strategies, and actions of the Regional Comprehensive Plan:

Land Use Goal 3: To have a variety of land uses that fit the diverse needs of the community

Strategy 7: Provide a variety of residential land use opportunities.

Action B: Encourage a mix of lot sizes.

²⁰ Attachment 11: Agency comments from Kayde Whiteside, FNSB Long range planner

- Maintain and encourage residential patterns that minimize public and private costs, both initial and long-term.

Land Use Goal 4: To enhance development opportunities while minimizing land use conflicts

Strategy 10: Attract and support development that is compatible with and enhances existing land use:

Action A: support innovative land development and compatible land use that addresses special area needs, site constraints, energy, or design objectives.

- Encourage energy-efficient land use through higher densities and clustered housing.

Zoning Analysis

Upzoning a strip of land facing a major collector can be an effective tool to provide a desired use without negatively impacting the neighborhood behind it. Were the rezone to include more of McKinley Acres Subdivision it would not be supportable, as the local roads and built-density would not support additional parking. But the rezone is only focused on the Fairbanks Street corridor, which has sidewalks, room for on-street parking, and large lots which could accommodate additional off-street parking. Additionally, any new development would have to adhere to the larger MF setback requirements, which would reduce the impact on adjacent neighbors.

There appears to be support for increasing density for this corridor, as evidenced by the majority of property owners that signed the rezone petition and the lack of opposition from immediate neighbors. This neighborhood appears to be comfortable with a mix of renter-occupied and owner-occupied units, and the walkable proximity to the university makes it attractive to renters.

The rezone as proposed enables the property owners to increase density within MF standards.

IV. TRAFFIC AND TRIP GENERATION

FNSB Community Planning Department Director Kellen Spillman provided an extensive trip generation analysis.²¹ Provided below is a summary, please see attachment for full analysis.

The analysis made a significant number of assumptions as the lots are fully developed. Based on the Institute of Transportation Engineers Trip Generation Manual it would be expected that the existing development generates 166.45 trip ends or 83 round trips.²² If the density of the residential development were to increase to 28 dwelling units, it would be expected that the trip generation rate would increase to 232.68 trip ends or 116 round trips. In the unlikely event that all parcels were built to maximum residential density of 51 dwelling units, it would be expected to generate 296.31 trip ends, or 148.15 round trips.

Fairbanks Street is a major collector, with a stated purpose of handling higher traffic volumes. The existing driving surface of Fairbanks Street is about 28 feet wide and paved. This street is well constructed and has dedicated pedestrian facilities.²³ There is a striped shoulder on each side of the roadway and a sidewalk with ADA curb features on the west side of the roadway. There is a dedicated left turn-lane at the intersection of Fairbanks Street and Geist Road and the posted speed limit is 30 MPH. The most recent traffic volumes from the north end of Fairbanks Street were 2,320 vehicles per day. Note that this would include the traffic generated from the post office and gas station; the volumes passing through the rezone area would be much less. The full annual average daily traffic counts for the north end of Fairbanks Street are available in the table below.

Annual Average Daily Traffic

2023 AADT	2,320
2022 AADT	2,280
2021 AADT	2,340
2020 AADT	2,810

All of the proposed parcels to be rezoned either have direct lot access off Fairbanks Street or have driveways less than 100 feet from Fairbanks Street. As such, any increase in traffic would not use the local neighborhood streets for access. Fairbanks Street has significant capacity to handle additional traffic. According to the Alaska Department of Transportation (DoT), a major collector would handle up to 5,000 vehicles per day and a minor collector up to 3,000 vehicles per day.

Because of the somewhat minimal potential to increase traffic and the good condition/functional classification of Fairbanks Street there are no concerns from a transportation perspective on this proposed rezone. One key consideration in making ²² Please note that the analysis had an error: there are three—not four—single family dwelling units and six—not five—duplexes. This error slightly reduces the estimated number of trips from the existing development, but it does not change the findings.

²³ CP Policy 15.01

this determination is that all the parcels either access off Fairbanks Street, or in very close proximity to Fairbanks Street. The conclusion would possibly differ if this proposed rezone was deeper into the neighborhood requiring the extensive use of local roadways.

V. NONCONFORMING LOTS, STRUCTURES AND USES

Lots: All lots were legally created and meet the minimum lot size for the TF zone and for the proposed MF zone.

Structures: Seven of the residential structures were constructed prior to zoning standards being applied to the property. While most structures in the rezone area appear to be complying with the TF setback standards (front = 20 feet, side/rear = five feet), it is possible that structures do not comply with them or with the MF setback standards (front = 20 feet, side/rear = ten feet). Nonconforming structures may continue if they acquire affirmative recognition of legal nonconforming status (grandfather rights). An affirmative determination of legal nonconforming status has been issued for the structure on Lot 18A.

Use: Currently all but one lot have conforming uses: vacant, single-family residence, or duplex. The one nonconforming use is the zoning lot 17A/18A, which had a large bed and breakfast that was not a permitted use in the TF zone because it had more than nine guestrooms. The property is currently vacant, but the nature of the building makes it difficult to have a conforming use in the TF zone. The proposed rezone would enable the structure on Lot 18A to be in compliance if converted to a multiple-family dwelling or to a roominghouse, which would require a conditional use permit.

VI. PLANNING COMMISSION RECOMMENDATION CRITERIA [FNSBC 18.104.020 (C)]

(1) The proposed rezone conforms to the comprehensive plan.

The MF zoning district is consistent with the "Urban" designation in the Regional Comprehensive Plan (RCP). The rezone is supported by the RCP Land Use Goal 3, Strategy 7, Action B; and Land Use Goal 4, Strategy 10, Action A.

(2) The proposed rezone conforms to the public health, safety and welfare.

The rezone to MF conforms to the public health, safety and welfare by being sited where there are adequate services to handle density: Fairbanks Street, which is a major collector, is well constructed and has dedicated pedestrian facilities on the same side of the street as the rezone area; the nearest public transportation stop is 540 feet from the farthest lot, and there is adequate existing infrastructure, which includes public water and sewer utilities, natural gas, electric, fire service, and road service.

Public health, safety and welfare is also protected because any increase in density must conform to MF standards, which have setback and parking requirements. It would set standards to allow a noncompliant use to come into compliance. Additionally, any new development would be required to have a ten (10) foot setback on the side and rear yards. This is double what the existing TF zone requires, providing even more protection to the adjacent parcel owners.

No agency comments in opposition to this rezone were received.²⁴ Any multi-family development is subject to a plan review by the State Fire Marshal.

VII. SPOT ZONE ANALYSIS

The Alaska Supreme Court has stated that the classic definition of spot zoning is, “the process of singling out a small parcel of land for a use classification totally different from that of the surrounding area, for the benefit of the owner of such property and to the detriment of other owners.” Determining whether a rezone constitutes spot zoning depends on the facts and circumstances of each case. In Griswold v. City of Homer, 925 P.2d 1015, Alaska, 1996 the court stated it would consider the following three factors in determining the constitutionality of spot zoning:

1. The consistency of the amendment with the comprehensive plan;

The MF zoning district is consistent with the “Urban” designation in the Regional Comprehensive Plan (RCP). The rezone is supported by the RCP Land Use Goal 3, Strategy 7, Action B; and Land Use Goal 4, Strategy 10, Action A.

2. The benefits and detriments of the amendment to the owners, adjacent landowners, and community; and

The benefit to the owners of the rezone area is it allows them to develop more densely to meet market need, if desired. The adjacent landowners will be protected by the MF restrictions for lot size, setback, and parking. Additional traffic generated by potential additional dwelling units would not route through the existing TF neighborhood; the traffic analysis found that Fairbanks Street, which is a major collector, had significant capacity to handle additional traffic, so the traffic would not be a detriment to adjacent landowners. The community benefits

²⁴ Attachment 11: Agency comments

because multiple-family development could be sited in an appropriate area with adequate infrastructure and near public transportation access.

3. The size of the area rezoned

While case law does not give an exact size for making a spot zone determination, it does provide guidance that parcels less than 3 acres are almost always a spot zone and parcels over 13 acres are almost always found not to be a spot zone. The proposed MF rezone, which is 2.14 acres, is not considered a spot zone because it would act as a continuation to the existing MF zone across Fairbanks Street, creating a corridor of MF zoning on the major collector. Additionally, MF zoning is not “a use classification totally different from that of the surrounding area;” it is a dense residential zone next to a slightly less dense residential zone.

VIII. PUBLIC NOTICE

The Department of Community Planning mailed 501 Dear Property Owner (DPO) notices on July 10, 2026.²⁵ The applicant posted three public hearing notice signs by July 22, 2026, meeting the notice requirements.²⁶

As of publishing, three letters and four phone calls had been received from surrounding property owners with general inquiries about this rezone. There were several concerns about the nature of multi-family zoning.²⁷

X. SITE VISIT

A site visit was conducted and photos were taken on July 22, 2026.²⁹

XI. RECOMMENDATION

Based on the staff analysis above, the Department of Community Planning recommends approval of this request to rezone to Multiple Family Residential (MF).

XII. FINDINGS OF FACT

The Department of Community Planning further recommends adoption of the staff report and the following four (4) Findings of Fact in support of APPROVAL of the rezone.

1. The rezone to Multiple-Family Residential is consistent with the FNSB Regional Comprehensive Plan (RCP) land use designation of “Urban,” which is the “area that is served with community water and sewer, and contains the most intensive residential, commercial, and industrial development.” This area should have the highest amount of public improvements available to it, and be able to support the highest densities within the Borough. Public improvements include community water and sewer, road service, emergency services, gas, telephone, and power.
2. The rezone conforms to the following FNSB Regional Comprehensive Plan’s goals and strategies:
 - Land Use Goal 3: To have a variety of land uses that fit the diverse needs of the community
 - Strategy 7: Provide a variety of residential land use opportunities.
 - Action B: Encourage a mix of lot sizes.
 - Maintain and encourage residential patterns that minimize public and private costs, both initial and long-term.
 - Land Use Goal 4: To enhance development opportunities while minimizing land use conflicts
 - Strategy 10: Attract and support development that is compatible with and enhances existing land use:
 - Action A: support innovative land development and compatible land use that addresses special area needs, site constraints, energy, or design objectives.

²⁹ Attachment 10: Site Visit Pictures

- Encourage energy-efficient land use through higher densities and clustered housing.
3. The rezone conforms to the public health, safety and welfare because:
- a. There are adequate utilities to handle density.
 - b. The area in this rezone is served directly by a major collector, Fairbanks Street, and would not divert traffic into a lower density neighborhood.
 - c. Additional density is supported by existing transportation infrastructure—sidewalks and adequate road service—and transit services, as the area is near a MACS Transit bus stop.
 - d. New development must comply with Multiple-Family Residential side- and rear-setback standards, which are greater than those in Two-Family Residential.
 - e. The MF zone has standards for noncompliant uses to come into compliance.
 - f. Multiple-family residential development is subject to a plan review by the State Fire Marshal.
4. The proposed rezone is likely not a spot zone because:
- a. The MF zoning district is consistent with the “Urban” designation in the Regional Comprehensive Plan (RCP). The rezone is supported by the RCP Land Use Goal 3, Strategy 7, Action B; and Land Use Goal 4, Strategy 10, Action A.
 - b. The rezone is not a detriment to surrounding owners because any additional traffic will not be routed through the neighborhood, but is instead directed onto Fairbanks Street which has significant capacity to handle additional traffic.
 - c. The rezone continues MF zoning from across the street, creating a MF corridor. It does not introduce a totally different use; the dense residential zone would be adjacent to an existing slightly less-dense residential zone.

DRAFT PLANNING COMMISSION MOTION:

I move to recommend approval of RZ2026-009, a request to rezone Lots 1, 2, 11, 12, Block 1; Lots 14A, 14B, 15N, 16, 17, Block 3, Lots 17A, 18A, 19A, 19B, Block 4, McKinley Acres Subdivision from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple-Family Residential (MF), adopting the staff report and four findings of fact in support of this recommendation.

Sec. 49.15.050. Zone Boundaries. The Fairbanks North Star Borough shall be divided into zones as described on the following pages:

Section 49.15.050. Zone Boundaries.

- (1) Unrestricted Use Zone. All land within the Fairbanks North Star Borough not in any other zone.

Sec. 49.15.060. Unrestricted Use Zone. Notwithstanding any statements to the contrary in this ordinance, no restrictions, standards, conditions, or permits provided for other zones shall apply in the UU Zone. In the UU zone, structures of any type and size may be placed or constructed on any lot, and any use may be made of the lot or of structures thereon.

Sec. 49.15.070. Permitted Uses. The land and building uses which are permitted in each established zone are shown in Sec. 49.15.160 Schedule A, except that permitted signs are described in Sec. 49.15.080. Uses permitted outright are indicated by the letter "P". Uses conditionally permitted, in accordance with Sec. 49.15.200 of this ordinance are indicated by the letter "C". Uses not permitted are indicated by the letter "N". Detached accessory buildings and other structures may be constructed on a lot. The lot and structures may be used for purposes customarily subordinate to the principal use of the lot. A business is permitted to be carried on within a dwelling if the business is incidental to the use of the dwelling for residence purposes and its conduct is not apparent from the exterior of the dwelling and does not adversely affect the principal uses permitted in the zone of which it is a part. The installation and maintenance of public utility lines are permitted in all zones.

Sec. 49.15.080. Permitted Signs. Signs are permitted in each zone to advertise the premises or the facilities, activities or enterprises situated on the lot on which the signs are located, as described in Sec. 49.15.160, Schedule B of this ordinance. A sign shall not be installed in a required yard, except in the OR, GA, RE and RR zones. A sign or light shall not be installed which would be a hazard to persons or traffic, or an obstruction to utilities. Permitted signs in the BS, LI and HI zones may overhang a sidewalk to within one foot of the curb line, provided the bottom of the sign is at least ten (10) feet above the sidewalk, and the sign does not extend beyond a line which begins at the intersection of a street lot line with an interior lot line and forms a 30 degree angle with the street lot line. Traffic, street and other public signs may be installed and maintained in any zone by a city, borough, state, or federal agency.

Sec. 49.15.090. Geometrical Standard for Lots. No building area shall be so placed as to cover more of its lot, be on a lot of less size, or have yards of less size, than as provided in Section 49.15.160, Schedule C. More than one structure containing a principal use may be placed on a single lot if the standards in Schedule C are maintained for each such structure. Twenty percent of a required yard may contain structures which do not extend more than two and one half feet above the ground.

Fairbanks Street TF to MF Rezoning Narrative

Explanation of Why the Existing Zoning is Unsatisfactory and Reasons for Requesting Rezoning

The current Two-Family Residential (TF) zoning designation along this section of Fairbanks Street no longer reflects the existing character, infrastructure, and development potential of the corridor. Rezoning these properties to Multi-Family Residential (MF) would create a more logical and consistent land-use pattern while helping address Fairbanks' growing housing needs.

The reasons for requesting the rezoning are as follows:

1. Fairbanks Street is a Major Collector Road

Fairbanks Street serves as a significant collector roadway connecting directly to Geist Road. Because of its traffic capacity, access, and location, it is well suited for multi-family residential development and can accommodate higher residential density more appropriately than interior neighborhood streets.

2. Existing Urban Infrastructure Supports Increased Density

The properties included in the rezoning request are already served by municipal water and sewer infrastructure. The availability of these public utilities makes the corridor particularly appropriate for multi-family residential development and aligns with efficient use of existing public investments.

3. Multi-Family Zoning Already Exists Across the Street

Properties on the opposite side of Fairbanks Street are currently zoned Multi-Family Residential. Extending MF zoning to the subject properties would create a more consistent and balanced zoning pattern on both sides of the roadway, eliminating an arbitrary distinction between similarly situated properties.

4. Adequate Off-Street Parking Can Be Provided

The proposed zoning change would not create adverse parking impacts. Any future multi-family development would be required to meet Borough parking requirements and provide adequate off-street parking accommodations. As a result, the rezoning is not expected to significantly affect on-street parking conditions.

5. The Rezoning Supports Needed Housing Development

Fairbanks continues to experience a need for additional housing opportunities. Allowing multi-family development along this corridor would increase housing capacity, diversify housing choices, and help address community housing shortages without expanding infrastructure into undeveloped areas.

6. Existing Properties Already Exhibit Multi-Family Characteristics

Notably, at least two properties within the proposed rezone area are currently classified by the Fairbanks North Star Borough Assessor's Office under the assessment class of "Multi-Family," despite being located within the existing TF zoning district.

While assessment classifications and zoning designations serve different purposes, this classification demonstrates that the Borough already recognizes the property's multi-family characteristics. Rezoning these properties to MF would create greater consistency between the existing development pattern, property assessment classifications, and the zoning designation applied to the corridor.

This change would provide a clearer and more predictable framework for future investment, maintenance, and redevelopment while supporting the continued use of valuable housing resources within the community.

7. This Request Represents Logical Corridor Planning, Not Spot Zoning

The proposed rezoning helps resolve inconsistencies between the current zoning designation and the existing development pattern along Fairbanks Street. A couple properties within the proposed rezone area are already assessed or classified by the Borough in ways that recognize their multi-family residential characteristics, despite being located within a TF zoning district.

Approving the rezoning would create greater consistency between existing property characteristics, Borough assessments, and zoning regulations. This alignment would provide increased clarity for property owners, support continued investment in housing, and encourage appropriate redevelopment opportunities consistent with the character of the corridor.

The proposal has also received support from more than 70 percent of the affected property owners, demonstrating broad neighborhood recognition that the MF designation is an appropriate and beneficial land-use classification for this section of Fairbanks Street.

Protection of Public Health, Safety, and Welfare

The proposed rezoning promotes public health, safety, and welfare in several important ways.

1. Supports Additional Housing Within Existing Urban Services

Increased residential development in areas already served by municipal water and sewer infrastructure promotes safe and healthy living conditions while reducing reliance on aging or substandard private utility systems.

2. Encourages Redevelopment of Aging Structures

Several properties within the corridor contain older structures that may eventually reach the end of their useful life. Multi-family zoning creates opportunities for redevelopment with modern construction that complies with current building, fire, life-safety, and energy codes, resulting in safer housing stock.

3. Improves Housing Quality and Availability

Additional multi-family housing can provide quality residential options for individuals and families currently facing limited housing choices. Expanding housing availability helps address community needs while supporting economic stability.

4. Traffic Impacts Are Appropriate for the Corridor

Fairbanks Street already functions as a collector roadway designed to accommodate greater traffic volumes than local residential streets. The roadway network and existing infrastructure are therefore better suited to supporting moderate increases in residential density.

5. Maintains Neighborhood Compatibility

Multi-family zoning already exists on the opposite side of Fairbanks Street. Extending the same designation to the subject properties creates a cohesive land-use pattern and strengthens the corridor's role as a transition area between higher-density and lower-density residential development.

6. Provides Opportunities for Property Improvement and Investment

The rezoning encourages continued investment in housing and property maintenance, benefiting both residents and neighboring property owners while contributing positively to the overall appearance and stability of the area.

The proposal affects a continuous group of properties along an established collector road and extends an existing MF zoning pattern already present across the street. It is not an isolated request benefiting a single parcel but rather a logical extension of existing land-use patterns that can increase housing opportunities and property values while strengthening the tax base.

8. Strong Neighborhood Support Exists for the Rezoning

The proposal has received broad support from affected property owners. More than 70 percent of the property owners within the impacted area support the zoning change, as demonstrated by the submitted petition. This level of support indicates that residents recognize the benefits of a more appropriate zoning designation for the corridor.

Advantages of Rezoning the Property

The proposed rezoning offers several significant benefits to the community:

- Expands housing opportunities in an area already served by public utilities.
- Encourages efficient use of existing infrastructure.
- Creates a consistent zoning pattern along both sides of Fairbanks Street.
- Supports redevelopment and reinvestment in aging properties.
- Increases property values and tax base potential.
- Provides a transitional land-use buffer between higher-density corridors and lower-density residential neighborhoods.
- Helps address Fairbanks' ongoing need for additional housing options.
- Aligns zoning regulations with the existing and future character of the corridor.

Consistency with the Fairbanks North Star Borough Regional Comprehensive Plan

Following discussions with Planning Department staff, several sections of the Fairbanks North Star Borough Regional Comprehensive Plan were identified as supporting the proposed rezoning.

The subject properties would be considered part of an Urban Area under the Comprehensive Plan due to their location and access to municipal water and sewer services. The proposed rezoning directly supports several goals and strategies contained within the Plan.

Land Use Goal 3: Provide a Variety of Land Uses that Meet the Diverse Needs of the Community

Strategy 7: Provide a Variety of Residential Land Use Opportunities

The proposed MF zoning designation advances this goal by increasing residential density options and expanding housing opportunities within an existing urban service area. Multi-family zoning allows greater flexibility in meeting housing demand and provides additional residential choices for Fairbanks residents.

Land Use Goal 4: Attract and Support Development that is Compatible with and Enhances Existing Land Use

Strategy 10, Action B: Develop a Pattern of Compatible Land Uses and Separate, Transition, or Buffer Incompatible Land Uses

The proposed rezoning supports a compatible and orderly development pattern. Fairbanks Street functions as a major collector roadway and serves as a natural transition area between lower-density residential neighborhoods and higher-density residential uses. Multi-family development along this corridor creates an effective buffer while maintaining compatibility with surrounding land uses. The opposite side of Fairbanks Street is already zoned MF and currently serves this same transition function.

Goal 4, Strategy 11: Encourage Effective and Harmonious Resolution of Community Land-Use Conflicts

Subject: Review Request - RZ2026-009

Dear Agency Partners,

The FNSB Planning Commission is considering RZ2026-009, a request by Deborah Snow, on behalf of multiple property owners, to rezone Lots 1, 2, 11, 12, Block 1; Lots 14A, 14B, 15N, 16, 17, Block 3, Lots 17A, 18A, 19A, 19B, Block 4, McKinley Acres Subdivision from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple Family Residential (MF), located on Fairbanks Street between Iris Lane and Dunlap Avenue.

The application materials are attached, as well as an area zoning map and the original plat of this subdivision. A fuller description of the proposal is below. The rezone request will be heard by the Planning Commission on August 11, 2026. Please respond with any comments no later than Wednesday, July 22, 2026.

Thank you very much,

Anduin

Rezone Proposal Description:

The Two-Family Residential (TF) zone is intended for medium density residential development and other uses which maintain the medium density residential nature of the district in areas where community sewer and water systems are available. (FNSBC 18.48).

The Multiple-Family Residential (MF) zone is intended for high density residential development provided through a variety of housing types and other types of quasi-residential and public use development maintaining the high density residential nature of the district. This district is intended for areas where community sewer and water systems are available. (FNSBC 18.52).

The applicants wrote that the TF zoning designation “no longer reflects the existing character, infrastructure, and development potential of the corridor. Rezoning these properties to MF would create a more logical and consistent land-use pattern while helping address Fairbanks’ growing housing needs.”

The rezone would increase the allowable density of the lots that are adjacent or near-adjacent to Fairbanks Street, which is classified as a major collector.

In the TF zone the maximum density allowed is two dwelling units per lot if the lot is at least 7,000 square feet. There are thirteen lots in the rezone area. All but one are at least 7,000 square feet, so the possible density is currently 13-25 dwelling units, if all lots are developed.

In the MF zone the maximum density allowed depends on building type.

Dwelling units/building	Required lot area
-------------------------	-------------------

Single family house	5,000 sf per unit
Duplex	3,500 sf per unit (7,000 total)
More than two dwelling units in a single building	2,000 sf per unit

In the MF zone more than one building may be on a lot; the required lot area for each building applies. I have determined the maximum allowable density for each lot, based on lot area. The possible density of the rezone area if zoned MF is 13-51 dwelling units, depending on how they were developed. If there are three or more dwelling units then off-street parking is required (1 per dwelling unit). The MF zone also requires greater setbacks than the TF zone (10 feet for the side and rear yards instead of 5 feet).

Hi Anduin,

As requested, please see below.

I will preface this in that there were a significant number of assumptions made due to the fact that the lots are already fully developed. It would be extremely unlikely that all of the existing structures would be demolished and re-developed at an additional density. I am not a Professional Engineer (PE), so any of the calculations below are in reference to a trip generation estimation, which is within my scope of practice as a certified planner, and not a traffic impact analysis, which would be in the scope of practice of a PE.

This rezone is comprised of 13 parcels, but only 11 zoning lots (some parcels have been developed together). Essentially there are eleven developments on the parcels in this rezone area. Currently there are four single family dwelling units, five duplexes, a former bed and breakfast (please note that the bed and breakfast was non-compliant and subject to several code enforcement cases) and a vacant parcel owned by a utility company. Based on the Institute of Transportation Engineers, Trip Generation Manual it would be expected that the existing development generates 166.45 trip ends or 83 round trips.

If the density of the residential development were to double (14 dwelling units to 28 dwelling units) it would be expected that the trip generation rate would increase to 232.68 trip ends or 116 round trips.

Simply taking only the minimum lot size calculations, under the current zoning 51 dwelling units could be constructed in the rezone area. This assumes that all parcels are vacant and would develop to the maximum density. Under the proposed MF zone and the same assumptions 51 units could be constructed in the rezone area. This would be extremely unlikely due to the need for all parcels to redevelop in addition to then requiring onsite parking. If buildout were to occur on all parcels to the maximum residential density it would be expected to generate 296.31 trip ends or 148.15 round trips.

Existing Conditions – Fairbanks Street

The FNSB classifies the portion of Fairbanks Street involved in this rezone as a major collector. The purpose of a major collector is to “collect traffic from local streets and minor collectors and channel it into the arterial system” (FNSBC 17.56.070(F)).

The existing driving surface of Fairbanks Street is about 28 feet wide and paved. There is a striped shoulder on each side of the roadway and a sidewalk with ADA curb features on the west side of the roadway. Additionally, there is a dedicated left turn-lane at the intersection of Fairbanks Street and Geist Road and the posted speed limit is 30 MPH. The most recent traffic volumes from the North end of Fairbanks Street were 2,320 vehicles per day. Please note that this would include the traffic generated from the post office and gas station; the volumes passing through the rezone area would be much less. The full annual average daily traffic counts for the north end of Fairbanks Street are available in the table below.

Annual Average Daily Traffic

2023 AADT	2,320
2022 AADT	2,280
2021 AADT	2,340
2020 AADT	2,810
2019 AADT	3,268

Transportation Analysis:

In general, a duplex generates slightly less traffic than a single-family dwelling unit. This is because certain services such as fuel delivery, etc., could be expected to be shared by both units on the same parcel. Additionally, these units on average are smaller and often accommodate fewer persons per dwelling unit than a single-family home.

Fairbanks Street is a Major Collector, with a stated purpose of handling higher traffic volumes. This street is well constructed and has dedicated pedestrian facilities. (Source: CP Policy 15.01) All of the proposed parcels to be rezoned either have direct lot access off of Fairbanks Street or have driveways less than 100 feet from Fairbanks Street. As such, any increase to traffic would not use the local neighborhood streets for access. Fairbanks Street has significant capacity to handle additional traffic. According to the Alaska Department of Transportation (DoT) a major collector would handle up to 5,000 vehicles per day and a minor collector up to 3,000 vehicles per day.

Because of the somewhat minimal potential to increase traffic and the good condition/functional classification of Fairbanks Street there are no concerns from a transportation perspective on this proposed rezone. One key consideration in making this determination is that all of the parcels either access off of Fairbanks Street or in very close proximity to Fairbanks Street. The conclusion would possibly differ if this proposed rezone was deeper into the neighborhood requiring the extensive use of local roadways.

Sources and calculations:

I will note that these figures are based on national level studies and observations and the actual generation rates can vary from case by case. All of these calculations were based on the weekday average for a trip end. In basic terms, if you go to work and come home from work that counts as two trip ends and would register a count of two in ADT counts. The average rate includes all trips averaged across 355 case studies, so this counts fuel delivery, mail delivery, garbage, recreational visits, etc.

The national trip generation average per single family dwelling unit would 9.52 trip ends or just shy of 5 rounds trips. $9.52 \times 4 = 38.08$ trip ends (Source: Institute of Transportation Engineers, Trip Generation Manual, 9th Edition LU ode 210)

The national trip generation average per residential townhouse (including duplex) dwelling units would 5.81 trip ends or just shy of 3 rounds trips. $5.81 \times 10 = 58.1$ trip ends (Source: Institute of Transportation Engineers, Trip Generation Manual, 9th Edition LU code 230)

The national trip generation average per occupied guestroom on a business hotel would 7.27 trip ends or just shy of 8 rounds trips. $7.27 \times 10 = 70.27$ trip ends (Source: Institute of Transportation Engineers, Trip Generation Manual, 9th Edition LU code 312, Business Hotel. Please note that the Manual does not contain a listed use of bed and breakfast, but other municipalities have used LU Code as the closest like use. Example County of San Luis Obispo Patrimony Winery at Adelaida Road, and East Lansing, Michigan)

Subject: Review Request - RZ2026-009

Dear Agency Partners,

The FNSB Planning Commission is considering RZ2026-009, a request by Deborah Snow, on behalf of multiple property owners, to rezone Lots 1, 2, 11, 12, Block 1; Lots 14A, 14B, 15N, 16, 17, Block 3, Lots 17A, 18A, 19A, 19B, Block 4, McKinley Acres Subdivision from Two-Family Residential (TF) to Multiple Family Residential (MF), located on Fairbanks Street between Iris Lane and Dunlap Avenue.

The application materials are attached, as well as an area zoning map and the original plat of this subdivision. A fuller description of the proposal is below. The rezone request will be heard by the Planning Commission on August 11, 2026. Please respond with any comments no later than Wednesday, July 22, 2026.

Thank you very much,

Anduin

Rezone Proposal Description:

The Two-Family Residential (TF) zone is intended for medium density residential development and other uses which maintain the medium density residential nature of the district in areas where community sewer and water systems are available. (FNSBC 18.48).

The Multiple-Family Residential (MF) zone is intended for high density residential development provided through a variety of housing types and other types of quasi-residential and public use development maintaining the high density residential nature of the district. This district is intended for areas where community sewer and water systems are available. (FNSBC 18.52).

The applicants wrote that the TF zoning designation “no longer reflects the existing character, infrastructure, and development potential of the corridor. Rezoning these properties to MF would create a more logical and consistent land-use pattern while helping address Fairbanks’ growing housing needs.”

The rezone would increase the allowable density of the lots that are adjacent or near-adjacent to Fairbanks Street, which is classified as a major collector.

In the TF zone the maximum density allowed is two dwelling units per lot if the lot is at least 7,000 square feet. There are thirteen lots in the rezone area. All but one are at least 7,000 square feet, so the possible density is currently 13-25 dwelling units, if all lots are developed.

In the MF zone the maximum density allowed depends on building type.

Dwelling units/building	Required lot area
Single family house	5,000 sf per unit
Duplex	3,500 sf per unit (7,000 total)
More than two dwelling units in a single building	2,000 sf per unit

In the MF zone more than one building may be on a lot; the required lot area for each building applies. I have determined the maximum allowable density for each lot, based on lot area. The possible density of the rezone area if zoned MF is 13-51 dwelling units, depending on how they were developed. If there are three or more dwelling units then off-street parking is required (1 per dwelling unit). The MF zone also requires greater setbacks than the TF zone (10 feet for the side and rear yards instead of 5 feet).

Comments: We are opposed to this re-zone proposal.

Such a large number of new multi-family homes will unfavorably change character of neighborhood, plus increased traffic and parking on Fairbanks St. This proposal seems to be initiated by an outside "commercial" enterprise, not initiated by home-owners.

Fairbanks Street TF to MF Rezoning Narrative

Explanation of Why the Existing Zoning is Unsatisfactory and Reasons for Requesting Rezoning

The current Two-Family Residential (TF) zoning designation along this section of Fairbanks Street no longer reflects the existing character, infrastructure, and development potential of the corridor. Rezoning these properties to Multi-Family Residential (MF) would create a more logical and consistent land-use pattern while helping address Fairbanks' growing housing needs.

The reasons for requesting the rezoning are as follows:

1. Fairbanks Street is a Major Collector Road

Fairbanks Street serves as a significant collector roadway connecting directly to Geist Road. Because of its traffic capacity, access, and location, it is well suited for multi-family residential development and can accommodate higher residential density more appropriately than interior neighborhood streets.

2. Existing Urban Infrastructure Supports Increased Density

The properties included in the rezoning request are already served by municipal water and sewer infrastructure. The availability of these public utilities makes the corridor particularly appropriate for multi-family residential development and aligns with efficient use of existing public investments.

3. Multi-Family Zoning Already Exists Across the Street

Properties on the opposite side of Fairbanks Street are currently zoned Multi-Family Residential. Extending MF zoning to the subject properties would create a more consistent and balanced zoning pattern on both sides of the roadway, eliminating an arbitrary distinction between similarly situated properties.

4. Adequate Off-Street Parking Can Be Provided

The proposed zoning change would not create adverse parking impacts. Any future multi-family development would be required to meet Borough parking requirements and provide adequate off-street parking accommodations. As a result, the rezoning is not expected to significantly affect on-street parking conditions.

5. The Rezoning Supports Needed Housing Development

Fairbanks continues to experience a need for additional housing opportunities. Allowing multi-family development along this corridor would increase housing capacity, diversify housing choices, and help address community housing shortages without expanding infrastructure into undeveloped areas.

6. Existing Properties Already Exhibit Multi-Family Characteristics

Notably, at least two properties within the proposed rezone area are currently classified by the Fairbanks North Star Borough Assessor's Office under the assessment class of "Multi-Family," despite being located within the existing TF zoning district.

While assessment classifications and zoning designations serve different purposes, this classification demonstrates that the Borough already recognizes the property's multi-family characteristics. Rezoning these properties to MF would create greater consistency between the existing development pattern, property assessment classifications, and the zoning designation applied to the corridor.

This change would provide a clearer and more predictable framework for future investment, maintenance, and redevelopment while supporting the continued use of valuable housing resources within the community.

7. This Request Represents Logical Corridor Planning, Not Spot Zoning

The proposed rezoning helps resolve inconsistencies between the current zoning designation and the existing development pattern along Fairbanks Street. A couple properties within the proposed rezone area are already assessed or classified by the Borough in ways that recognize their multi-family residential characteristics, despite being located within a TF zoning district.

Approving the rezoning would create greater consistency between existing property characteristics, Borough assessments, and zoning regulations. This alignment would provide increased clarity for property owners, support continued investment in housing, and encourage appropriate redevelopment opportunities consistent with the character of the corridor.

The proposal has also received support from more than 70 percent of the affected property owners, demonstrating broad neighborhood recognition that the MF designation is an appropriate and beneficial land-use classification for this section of Fairbanks Street.

Protection of Public Health, Safety, and Welfare

The proposed rezoning promotes public health, safety, and welfare in several important ways.

1. Supports Additional Housing Within Existing Urban Services

Increased residential development in areas already served by municipal water and sewer infrastructure promotes safe and healthy living conditions while reducing reliance on aging or substandard private utility systems.

2. Encourages Redevelopment of Aging Structures

Several properties within the corridor contain older structures that may eventually reach the end of their useful life. Multi-family zoning creates opportunities for redevelopment with modern construction that complies with current building, fire, life-safety, and energy codes, resulting in safer housing stock.

3. Improves Housing Quality and Availability

Additional multi-family housing can provide quality residential options for individuals and families currently facing limited housing choices. Expanding housing availability helps address community needs while supporting economic stability.

4. Traffic Impacts Are Appropriate for the Corridor

Fairbanks Street already functions as a collector roadway designed to accommodate greater traffic volumes than local residential streets. The roadway network and existing infrastructure are therefore better suited to supporting moderate increases in residential density.

5. Maintains Neighborhood Compatibility

Multi-family zoning already exists on the opposite side of Fairbanks Street. Extending the same designation to the subject properties creates a cohesive land-use pattern and strengthens the corridor's role as a transition area between higher-density and lower-density residential development.

6. Provides Opportunities for Property Improvement and Investment

The rezoning encourages continued investment in housing and property maintenance, benefiting both residents and neighboring property owners while contributing positively to the overall appearance and stability of the area.

The proposal affects a continuous group of properties along an established collector road and extends an existing MF zoning pattern already present across the street. It is not an isolated request benefiting a single parcel but rather a logical extension of existing land-use patterns that can increase housing opportunities and property values while strengthening the tax base.

8. Strong Neighborhood Support Exists for the Rezoning

The proposal has received broad support from affected property owners. More than 70 percent of the property owners within the impacted area support the zoning change, as demonstrated by the submitted petition. This level of support indicates that residents recognize the benefits of a more appropriate zoning designation for the corridor.

Advantages of Rezoning the Property

The proposed rezoning offers several significant benefits to the community:

- Expands housing opportunities in an area already served by public utilities.
- Encourages efficient use of existing infrastructure.
- Creates a consistent zoning pattern along both sides of Fairbanks Street.
- Supports redevelopment and reinvestment in aging properties.
- Increases property values and tax base potential.
- Provides a transitional land-use buffer between higher-density corridors and lower-density residential neighborhoods.
- Helps address Fairbanks' ongoing need for additional housing options.
- Aligns zoning regulations with the existing and future character of the corridor.

Consistency with the Fairbanks North Star Borough Regional Comprehensive Plan

Following discussions with Planning Department staff, several sections of the Fairbanks North Star Borough Regional Comprehensive Plan were identified as supporting the proposed rezoning.

The subject properties would be considered part of an Urban Area under the Comprehensive Plan due to their location and access to municipal water and sewer services. The proposed rezoning directly supports several goals and strategies contained within the Plan.

Land Use Goal 3: Provide a Variety of Land Uses that Meet the Diverse Needs of the Community

Strategy 7: Provide a Variety of Residential Land Use Opportunities

The proposed MF zoning designation advances this goal by increasing residential density options and expanding housing opportunities within an existing urban service area. Multi-family zoning allows greater flexibility in meeting housing demand and provides additional residential choices for Fairbanks residents.

Land Use Goal 4: Attract and Support Development that is Compatible with and Enhances Existing Land Use

Strategy 10, Action B: Develop a Pattern of Compatible Land Uses and Separate, Transition, or Buffer Incompatible Land Uses

The proposed rezoning supports a compatible and orderly development pattern. Fairbanks Street functions as a major collector roadway and serves as a natural transition area between lower-density residential neighborhoods and higher-density residential uses. Multi-family development along this corridor creates an effective buffer while maintaining compatibility with surrounding land uses. The opposite side of Fairbanks Street is already zoned MF and currently serves this same transition function.

Goal 4, Strategy 11: Encourage Effective and Harmonious Resolution of Community Land-Use Conflicts

Hi Danielle,

Okay, we are talking about RZ2026-009, which is not the Ordinance you submitted comment for.

First let me clarify what a rezone to Multiple-Family Residential (MF) would allow. Permitted uses, which is a use that just requires a zoning permit from our office, is anything allowed in the single-family and two-family zones, plus a bed and breakfast residence (up to 9 rooms, which is a conditional use in TF) and multiple-family dwellings (3 or more dwellings in a building). The MF zone also has conditional uses, which means they have to go before a public hearing at the Planning Commission. Conditional uses in the MF zone include group homes and roominghouses. Therefore, any proposed use other than a multi-family dwelling would have to go before the planning commission and you could have input on it.

As to the use that the prospective buyer is proposing, I think it would best if you spoke with the buyer. We have determined that the proposed use would be considered a roominghouse, which would require a conditional use permit application and hearing. Here is his contact information:

Byron Bruckner

Executive Director
Covenant Youth of Alaska

<https://www.cyak.org>

Please note we are not basing the rezone request on this proposed use, but rather looking at the merits of allowing increased density on this strip of land as a whole. The staff report is available here. Planning Commission Meeting • Fairbanks North Star Borough • CivicClerk

After review, if you wish to withdraw your signatures from the rezone petition, please let me know.

If you have any questions, I'm happy to discuss them.

Hello,

It is for the property 557 Fairbanks St. We did originally sign the petition, but the more we thought about it, the more we became weary. From our understanding, the organization wanting to buy it will be housing kids with behavioral issues? Maybe we misunderstood when the neighbor came around. If that is what is proposed, we would be against changing to multi home.

- RZ2026-007 is a request to rezone a lot on Wilcox Ave. from Light Commercial to General Commercial.
- RZ2026-009 is a request to rezone a strip of land along Fairbanks Street from Two-Family Residential to Multiple-Family Residential. This includes your lots, and you signed the rezone petition. I am writing to express my concerns regarding what is planned for the house directly next door to my home.

I am not comfortable with the proposed use of the property and have genuine concerns about the potential impact on the safety and security of my family, my neighbors, and our community. Living immediately adjacent to the property makes these concerns especially significant for me.

I understand that decisions like these involve many factors, but I respectfully ask that my concerns be taken into consideration. I would appreciate any information you can provide about the plans for the property, the measures that will be in place to address neighborhood safety.

Thank you for your time and consideration, I look forward to your response.

Public Hearing comments

Re. RZ2026-009

We have lived at 4048 Dunlap Ave (lot 23, blk 4, McKinley Acres) since 1976 and own the adjoining lots on either side (lots 22A & 24.) We oppose the proposed rezone of properties along the east side of Fairbanks Street from Two-Family Residential to Multiple-Family Residential. The neighborhood is a mix of single-family and duplex rentals which has functioned relatively well over the 50 years we have lived here. Our concern is the potential impact on convenience and safety that multiple-family housing will have on the main neighborhood access on Fairbanks Street if this rezone is approved and the status of housing on Fairbanks St. changes in accordance with that allowed under this proposed rezone.

Currently, all of the affected properties either have access from the side streets or have adequate off-street parking in their driveway off Fairbanks St. There is a 6-foot shoulder on Fairbanks St. but other than on rare occasion, nobody parks on this shoulder. But when they do, it impinges on the north-bound travel lane because of its narrow width. This has not been a problematic issue because each residence has sufficient off-street parking, however, multi-family means more people, which means more cars. It is inevitable that some families would have multiple vehicles which would overflow any reasonable sized parking lot the developer might have planned and end up impinging traffic in the travel lane and blocking sight distance for people turning from the side streets onto Fairbanks St.

Note that the multiple family units on the west side of Fairbanks St. have adequate parking for multiple cars for each tenant, thus there is rarely an issue with them using the shoulder on that side of the street, but I don't think there is room for that on the east side lots.

But the biggest concern is in winter. Currently, the Service District snow removal contractor uses that shoulder to store snow. And when they encounter a vehicle parked along the curb (which has happened occasionally farther south on Fairbanks St.) they have to push snow around the vehicle creating a formidable berm and are unable to clear the sidewalk adjacent to the parked car. There is a significant amount of foot traffic on this route in the winter, primarily U Park, WV and UAF students and elderly exercising and dog walking. The sidewalks can get so bad where the car in the street has blocked snow removal that pedestrians will walk around the uncleared area out in the icy vehicle lane. There are also no streetlights on Fairbanks St., making that situation very dangerous.

Comments: I'm fine with 2 Family Residential in our neighborhood. My property has 2 addresses and the house is basically a duplex, but it's not used as such.
I am against moving this neighborhood to Multi Family, it raises too many questions and possibilities for Problems!

Good Morning:

I am writing to submit public testimony for the public hearing RZ 2026-009. I live nearby and there is an issue with cars parking in the street (especially leaving them there all winter during snow plowing season). I have concerns that more cars will impede Fairbanks Street if this zoning changes.

Property owners should build parking lots on their own property for their tenants to park in, rather than cluttering up Fairbanks Street with random cars (some inoperable).

Thank you.

Subject: RZ2026-009 support

Hello. My name is Stephanie Rozell. I am a homeowner within the area seeking the rezoning (RZ2026-009) and am in full support of the change.

We have owned and lived at 4056 Fahrenkamp Ave for 18 years. We own a duplex and have rented it below market value to people in need of affordable housing. Fairbanks is severely lacking in housing for that population. I believe the zoning change for the east side of Fairbanks Street would be beneficial to Fairbanks and provide more opportunities for residents in the future.

As my husband and I walked house to house on Fairbanks Street in support of this re-zoning, we talked to one neighbor who was hoping to transform their garage into another apartment making the duplex a three-plex. This zoning change would allow for that change to happen.

Finally, the rezoning would allow for the sale of my neighbor's home at 557 Fairbanks Street to be used effectively. We have given our own time to mow the uninhabited property and parked cars there to give it the appearance of being used because we have already experienced the consequences of what happens with an abandoned property as evidenced by the old College Inn which still stands vandalized and burned seven years after the first fire.

Thank you.

ORDINANCE NO. 2026 – 24

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING FNSBC TITLE 4 TO ALIGN BOARD AND COMMISSION
APPOINTMENTS WITH ALASKA STATUTES TITLE 29 AND AMENDING CHAPTER 3.24
FNSBC TO CREATE THE ASSEMBLY ETHICS COMMITTEE

WHEREAS, AS 29.20.320(b) requires that “[m]embers of boards and commissions, except for members of the board of adjustment and assembly members serving on the board of equalization, are appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the governing body”; and

WHEREAS, The Assembly Board of Ethics functions more as a committee of the assembly than it does a board or commission and its responsibilities are limited to ethics matters concerning the Department of the Assembly and its board and commissions; and

WHEREAS, The Assembly Board of Ethics should be renamed the Assembly
Ethics Committee; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Equalization is exempt from the mayoral appointment provision of AS 29.20.320(b) only as to members of the Assembly sitting on the Board; any non-Assembly members of the Board must be appointed by the mayor; and

WHEREAS, The Economic Development Commission’s current membership structure selectively removes the mayor’s appointment authority granted by statute and

11 AN ORDINANCE AMENDING FNSBC TITLE 16 TO ADD COMMUNITY WORKFORCE
12 AGREEMENT REQUIREMENTS FOR CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS
13

14 WHEREAS, There is a shortage of skilled tradespeople in the Fairbanks
15 North Star Borough (Borough); and 16

17 WHEREAS, The Borough has a duty to secure the highest and best 18 purchasing value of Borough funds; and 19

20 WHEREAS, The use of a Community Workforce Agreement can grow the 21 construction trades workforce available for construction projects by promoting training 22 and employment in the building and construction trades, and supporting recruitment and 23 retention of workers who are entering a career in the trades throughout the duration of 24 a qualifying project; and 25

26 WHEREAS, Other local governments, including the Municipality of 27 Anchorage and City and Borough of Juneau, have recognized the benefits of Community
28 Workforce Agreements (CWA)s in developing pathways to good jobs and lifetime careers
29 in the building trades; and 30

31 WHEREAS, It is the objective of the Borough to promote cooperation, mitigate negative impacts on large Borough projects, minimize disruptions to Borough residents that affect health, safety and quality of life, and to ensure timely project completion; and

WHEREAS, It is the objective of the Borough to prevent workplace disruptions and expeditiously resolve workplace disputes as may arise on such projects; and

WHEREAS, These objectives can be economically and efficiently achieved by requiring an evaluation to determine whether a Community Workplace Agreement is appropriate when large construction projects paid for with Borough funds are undertaken; and

WHEREAS, Apprenticeship programs appropriately train the next generation of tradespeople to proficiently build in our sub-arctic environment, thus also reducing future energy costs; and

WHEREAS, Apprenticeship programs increase the number of proficient tradespeople in the community, and an increase in the supply of such trained tradespeople will both ultimately drive down construction costs through a larger competitive bidding pool and allow for more simultaneous construction projects to address the housing shortage; and

WHEREAS, In addition to the purposes listed above, the Borough also intends to further these important government interests through the adoption of a Community Workforce Agreement: reducing criminal recidivism; fostering employment opportunities for military veterans; increasing job opportunities for those who are socially or economically disadvantaged; and unifying the grievance process for large construction projects; and

WHEREAS, Research indicates that reentry employment programming significantly reduces criminal recidivism; and

WHEREAS, Fostering employment opportunities for military veterans serves the public good and honors the service of those who have served or are currently serving in the Armed Forces; and

WHEREAS, Increasing employment and training opportunities for socially or economically disadvantaged people serves to reduce dependence on public benefit programs and increases municipal-wide economic output; and

WHEREAS, Robust and clearly outlined grievance and arbitration processes eliminate confusion and increase both management and employee confidence in workplace agreements.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Assembly of the Fairbanks North Star Borough:

Section 1. Classification. This ordinance is of a general and permanent nature and shall be codified.

Section 2. FNSBC 16.12.090, Authority to contract, is amended as follows:
A. Every Borough contract, contract modification, or change order is subject to the prior approval of the Borough Assembly or Finance Committee of the Borough Assembly, when the amount exceeds $200,000. The Mayor may enter into contracts, contract

AMENDMENTS ARE SHOWN IN LEGISLATIVE FORMAT

Text to be added is underlined

Text to be deleted is [BRACKETED, CAPITALIZED]

modifications or change orders without Borough Assembly or Finance Committee approval when the contract amount is not expected to exceed $200,000. For the purposes of this section, the contract amount shall include the total of all contracts, contract modifications, and change order amounts.

B. In the event that a contract modification or change order causes the total value of the contract to exceed the signatory authorities specified above, then an information copy of the change order and/or the contract amendment will be provided to the chairperson of the Finance Committee.

C. All Borough construction projects over $3,500,000 must be reviewed for a community workforce agreement as required by this chapter.

Section 3. A new section, FNSBC 16.12.180, Community workforce agreement requirements, is added as follows:

A. Purpose and intent. It is the intent of the Assembly that a community workforce agreement (CWA) review team review and evaluate qualifying Borough construction projects to consider if a CWA could be used to advance important interests held by the Borough. The Borough's public policy is to use CWAs to the fullest extent allowed by law.

B. Qualifying Project. A qualifying project shall be a Borough construction project, whether for renovation, new construction, expansion, or demolition, in which the costs are estimated to exceed the amount of $3,500,000. For purposes of this subsection, "costs" shall not include the costs of Borough contract management or architectural-engineering services. The overall construction project shall not be divided into smaller components or phases with the intent of avoiding application of the CWA policy.

C. CWA Review Team. A CWA review team is established consisting of the chief of staff or designee, public works director or designee, a member of the department with the qualifying project, a representative from the Fairbanks Building and Construction Trades Council (FBCT Council), and a contractor representative. The contractor representative shall be chosen through mutual consent reached by the Associated

Text to be added is underlined

Text to be deleted is [BRACKETED, CAPITALIZED]

General Contractors of Alaska (AGC), Mechanical Contractors of Fairbanks (MCF) and the Alaska Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Association (NECA). The public works director shall serve as the chair of the CWA review team. A decision or recommendation of the team shall be made by a simple majority vote.

D. Procedure

1. When a department proposes a qualifying project, before the chief procurement officer (CPO) procures the construction services for the project, it shall be referred to the CWA review team. The team shall determine whether a CWA is or is not required for the project and may require a CWA if supported by the review criteria in this section. The team will issue a decision in writing that includes a description of the relationship between use of a CWA and the Borough's interests. If the team determines that a CWA is required for the project, the chief of staff shall provide the master CWA to the chief procurement officer to include in the solicitation.

2. Construction projects that do not meet the threshold amount for a qualifying project but are phases or components of a larger construction project may be referred to the CWA team by the CPO for review under this section.

E. Review criteria. The CWA review team shall consider the following factors:

1. Government interests. The government interests and Borough goals that a CWA should fulfill may include, but are not limited to, timely and efficient completion of the project, minimizing costs and delays, workplace safety, ensuring labor peace and stability, supporting and growing a qualified and competent workforce in the building and construction trades, and developing viable economic activities in the community.

2. Qualifying project characteristics. The project criteria the CWA review team should consider may include, but is not limited to, scope of the project, complexity, the unique design and construction features, specialized labor needs and volume, number and types of trades required, and timeliness considerations.

3. Impact on bidding contractors. The CWA review team shall consider the impact on bidding contractors, particularly in regard to the costs of employee benefits.

F. The CWA included in the procurement documents may only be revised or modified upon mutual written agreement between the contractor awarded a qualifying project and the FBCT Council. The parties to the CWA shall be the contractor and the FBCT Council. All contractors and subcontractors shall, as a condition of performing work on the qualifying project, become, and remain for the duration of the qualifying project signatory to and in full compliance with the CWA. The CWA shall, at a minimum, include terms effectuating the following:

1. promote employment on the qualifying project of apprentices enrolled in bona fide apprenticeship training programs, such that apprentice hours comprise at least 15% of total contract hours;

2. encourage the employment of military veterans, members of the National Guard or reservists;

3. promote the employment of socially and economically disadvantaged members of the community;

4. encourage employment of individuals struggling with reentry into the community after leaving a state correctional facility or incarceration, to reduce recidivism, through utilization of hiring halls maintained by the FBCT Council or its member labor organizations;

5. ensure that registration on the hiring hall "out of work" lists of the Trade Council's member labor organizations shall be open to all, whether or not such individuals are members of the labor organization;

6. contain a standardized grievance and arbitration procedure to resolve alleged violations of the CWA; and

7. include a process for an oversight committee to monitor progress of the project and for resolution of project-wide issues and disputes. The oversight committee shall be composed of an equal number of representatives each from the contractor and the FBCT Council, and of one representative of the Borough. The committee shall be empowered to address project-wide issues and disputes such as project policies and work
